INTRODUCTION

In the 1960's the Association of Canadian Law Teachers undertook the compilation of an index of research being done in Canadian law schools. The value of the index was apparent, but due to limited resources the A.C.L.T. envisioned difficulties in keeping the index up to date. In 1971 discussions took place between the Department of Justice and the A.C.L.T. with a view to expanding the index and publishing it on an annual basis. An agreement was reached whereby the newly established Legal Research and Planning Section of the Department of Justice, with the co-operation of the A.C.L.T., would be responsible for gathering the information and publishing the Index.

In the preparation of this first Index, information was sought from Federal Departments, the Law Reform Commission of Canada, the provincial law reform commissions, all full-time teachers of law, and all graduate students in Canadian law schools. In future years, it is hoped to expand the Index to include legal research being done by provincial government departments, associations of the bar and bench, special interest groups, voluntary associations, and indeed lawyers in private practice. Comments with regard to the form or content of the Index would be welcomed, and should be directed to the Legal Research and Planning Section, Department of Justice, Ottawa.

The editors wish to thank all those who assisted in the preparation of the Index or who supplied information about legal research in progress. They would like to express a special word of appreciation to His Honour, Judge R.J. Marin of the Law Reform Commission of Canada, for his efforts in collecting material from the various law reform commissions, and to the law deans and the A.C.L.T. representatives who made the survey of legal research in the law schools a success.

INTRODUCTION

Au cours des années 60, l'Association canadienne des professeurs de droit a entrepris la compilation d'un répertoire de la recherche menée dans les facultés de droit canadiennes. La valeur du répertoire est évidente; toutefois, l'Association a estimé qu'en raison des moyens limités dont elle dispose, il lui serait difficile de le maintenir à jour. En 1971, l'Association discuta également avec le ministère de la Justice de l'élargissement du répertoire et de sa publication annuelle. Les entretiens aboutirent à un accord aux termes duquel la Section de la recherche et de la planification juridiques, récemment établie au ministère de la Justice, serait chargée de recueillir les renseignements et de publier le répertoire en collaboration avec l'Association.

Les renseignements qui ont servi à la rédaction de ce premier répertoire proviennent des ministères fédéraux, de la Commission de réforme du droit du Canada, des commissions provinciales de réforme du droit, de tous les Professeurs de droit à temps plein et de tous les étudiants diplômés inscrits dans les facultés de droit canadiennes. On espère, dans l'avenir, améliorer le répertoire par l'addition des recherches effectuées dans le domaine juridique par les ministères provinciaux, les barreaux et les associations de magistrats, certains groupes particuliers, des associations bénévoles et même les hommes de loi exerçant à titre privé. On accueille avec plaisir toutes les observations concernant la forme ou le contenu du répertoire; faire parvenir celles-ci à la Section de la recherche et de la planification juridiques du ministère de la Justice (Ottawa).

Les auteurs désirent remercier toutes les personnes qui ont aidé à l'établissement du répertoire ou fourni des renseignements sur les recherches juridiques en cours. Ils aimeraient plus spécialement exprimer leur reconnaissance à Son Honneur le juge R.J. Marin, de la Commission de réforme du droit du Canada, pour ses efforts en vue de rassembler les données des diverses commissions de réforme du droit, ainsi qu'aux doyens des facultés et aux représentants de l'Association canadienne des professeurs de droit, qui ont mené à l'enquête sur la recherche juridique dans les facultés de droit.

INTRODUCTION

The 1973 Index contains information concerning legal research being carried on in Canadian universities and Canadian law reform commissions. It was hoped that information could have been reported concerning legal research in progress in government departments and in the committees of the several associations of the practising profession, but a method for obtaining this information and for presenting it in a meaningful way has not yet been established. It is still hoped that this will be possible in future editions.

Le Répertoire de 1973 fait état de la recherche juridique effectuée actuellement dans les universités canadiennes et dans les commissions de réforme du droit. On espérait pouvoir présenter la situation concernant la recherche effectuée dans les ministères fédéraux et provinciaux et par certaines associations professionnelles de juristes. Cependant il s'est avéré impossible, pour le moment, d'obtenir l'information complète et de la présenter d'une façon adéquate. Nous espérons cependant pouvoir le faire dans une prochaine édition.
